

WOUNDED OF 77TH WILL SEE PARADE

To Be Taken in Automobiles
When Division Marches
Early in May.

UNITS BACK BY APRIL 25

Plans Laid to Avoid Inconveniences That Attended
27th's Pageant.

The wounded soldiers of the Seventy-seventh Division will be carried in automobiles in the parade when the men march up Fifth avenue early in May, it was announced at divisional headquarters in the Baltimore yesterday afternoon. The exact number is not tabulated, but it is thought that about 3,000 will occupy cars driven by the Red Cross.

Movement of the field artillery of the division to Brest is interpreted by the advance party to indicate that the division will start for home even earlier than was expected. The first units are expected to arrive here by the middle of April and the last by April 25.

Lieut. Col. Douglas Campbell, who has been conferring with representatives of the Mayor's committee for the parade, expressed himself as being highly pleased with the committee's cooperation. Plans are being made for taking care of the immediate relatives of the division's men. They will be seated in grand stands. The next consideration, Col. Campbell said, is the wounded men of other divisions who wish to see their comrades march. They also will have seats in grand stands.

With the view of learning how to avoid some of the inconveniences attending during the Twenty-seventh's parade Col. Campbell has interviewed officers of the Twenty-seventh Division. They gave him several points, he said, that will contribute to the elimination of the inconveniences. The line of march will probably be better policed than formerly, when the line of marching men was broken in several places.

It is probable that the citizens of the East side will succeed in their desire to have the boys from the quarter as their guests after the parade. There are 14,000 of them. Plans are being made for theatre parties, dinners and other entertainments.

Plans are being made by employers cooperating with the division's employment Bureau to get jobs for all of the men by the time they are mustered out, probably at Camp Upton, soon after the parade. In outlining the work Major S. Fullerton Weaver, who has charge of the bureau, said:

"When I came here several weeks ago I had with me a card index system showing that 5,600 men in the division needed employment. By obtaining the cooperation of the United States Employment Service and the employers of the city we have taken care of 2,000 of these men. Assurances are coming in daily that the others will be placed when the proper time arrives."

"A large part of our work, which we didn't contemplate on the other side, is to take care of the unemployed causalities. We have already placed twenty of these causalities in positions since we organized the employment bureau. What we would like particularly is that employers in the city who feel that they can furnish positions for able bodied soldiers of the division will communicate with us. Our men embrace practically every trade and profession. Communications should be sent to the Seventy-seventh Division Employment Bureau at 310 Madison avenue."

$500,000 SET ASIDE FOR PURE RESEARCH

Rockefeller Foundation to Support Basic Scientific Development by Savants.

The Rockefeller Foundation has appropriated $500,000 to support over a five year period fundamental research in physics and chemistry. The announcement was authorized yesterday by Dr. George E. Vincent, president.

For some time the foundation has been studying to determine in what way it could be of the most service in the development of pure research in physics and chemistry. That is to say, scientific work aimed primarily at the discovery and understanding of basic principles rather than the development of particular products.

The purpose of the view are stated by Dr. Vincent to be the following: Opening of a scientific career to a larger number of able investigators and their more thorough training in research; meeting an urgent need of our universities and industries; increase of knowledge relating to the fundamental principles of physics and chemistry upon which the progress of all the sciences and the development of industry depend; creation of more favorable conditions for research in the educational institutions of the country.

The foundation's announcement is simultaneous with an announcement made from Washington by the National Research Council, with which the Rockefeller Foundation is cooperating, that funds amounting to $500,000 have been made available to the council by the foundation.

130 Institutions Are Notified.

This announcement went out to 130 colleges and universities in which most of the pure research work will be conducted. Considerations that have been of prime importance in the development of the plans of council and foundation are stated to be:

"1. The sharpest industrial competition ever known will follow the war. German scientific efficiency has been greatly enhanced under the pressure of war necessity. England has made an initial appropriation of one million pounds for the promotion of research. Japan, Australia and Canada are planning great research laboratories of physics and chemistry. France, Italy, South Africa and New Zealand are moving rapidly toward the same ends."

"2. New industrial research laboratories are springing up everywhere. Self-interest, once fully aroused, will apply provide for industrial investigations; but this is not true of the fundamental scientific research on which industrial progress depends."

"3. The advancement of research in pure science must be financed from private funds. At present almost all research in physics and chemistry is done at odd moments by overworked teachers, inadequately equipped and without assistants to relieve them of petty details. With adequate funds these difficulties can be overcome."

To Those Who Love Logic

The following points are of vital interest to the people of this nation, and will be discussed in greater detail in separate advertisements appearing in this paper at intervals until the start of the Victory Liberty Loan:

1. This nation—your country and mine—has an unpaid balance of some billions of dollars of war debt—for a Victory that we are now enjoying.
2. The nation must pay this debt—if it is to continue to exist as a nation among the nations of the world.
3. There are only two ways that the nation can secure the money—by the sale of bonds (or notes) and by taxes.
4. Taxes are already high and yet insufficient to meet our outstanding war obligations.
5. Therefore notes (or bonds) must be sold.
6. Again, there are only two ways that several billions of dollars of notes (or bonds) can be sold—to the banks or to the people.
7. If they are placed with the banks, industry, commerce, your business will suffer. The banks would be unable to purchase several billion dollars of Liberty Bonds and continue to loan money in sufficient quantities and at a fair rate to the business man. You cannot have your pudding and eat it, too.
8. It is, therefore, your business and my business to prepare for the Victory Liberty Loan, that we may then invest as largely as each of us individually can—for America's welfare and for our own.
